Commission Bumps

Keys to Getting Commission Bumps

Beyond our special working relationship, you can increase your commissions by requesting bumps from other sellers.

When you're a new affiliate, you must work a little harder to get approved by some vendors. Here are some tips for demonstrating value and getting approval and bumps from other sellers.

1. Presenting your affiliate account professionally. An unverified account with no information does not represent value to the seller. Remember that sellers are looking for a reason deny just as much as they are seeking to approve affiliates who can bring in sales.
2. Fill out your W+ profile. Describe how you intend to promote and describe your mission. For example, "My mission is grow a list that presents only the best tools and training for offline consultants..." Include contact information in case the vendor wants to reach out. Also, many sellers and affiliates use Skype to communicate, and there are more than a few skype groups for this market.
3. Verify your ID on WarriorPlus. Verification puts a little green checkmark next to your affiliate username on the seller's affiliate request list. This checkmark makes sellers feel better about giving a new account a chance to promote their products.
4. Promote other offers and build even a basic track record of sales...
5. Promote my products (I'll hook you up, just reach out!)
